

Elizabeth Morgan, known as Lisa, is the mother of 5, one of whom has already graduated, and is a leadership member of the COVE Co-op in Redford. She is very active in the homeschool community, is a passionate historian and lover of geography. Lisa did her Masters in Communications at Purdue University and then received her Ph.D. in Family and Child Ecology from Michigan State University. She has taught U.S. History to homeschoolers for several years using William Bennett's excellent text America: The Last Best Hope. She has also taught Apologia General Science and BJU Cultural Geography.