Required Materials (To Be Supplied by Family)
dedicated binder for Latin, three dividers, index cards and file case or box, looseleaf, pen/pencil textbook: Latin for Americans eighth edition , Ullman [this older edition is much cheaper and hey, it's Latin, it hasn't changed since 1997] ISBN 978-0026409124 A crossword puzzle book is available. You may purchase it for practice and extra credit points, but it is not required.
Description
Latin is foundational for a complete education, providing a more complete understanding of English and language in general, a window into the ancient world, and a resource for deciphering new English vocabulary derived from Latin. Latin for Americans highlights the three benefits above as students learn to read and write Latin. A lesser emphasis will be placed on speaking, though oral reading will be practiced. Each lesson includes a short passage in Latin (I bet you can figure out the first one on your own!), a grammar lesson, a word study, and vocabulary words to learn. Students will work through 1/2-1 lesson per each day of class. Students will be able to work through much of the text on their own. Class will serve as help, reinforcement, and correction. (And some fun.) I hope to be able to offer the national Latin exam at the appropriate level(s) in the spring, so that students can demonstrate proficiency. We will plan to complete Book I in this second year of Latin. Parents to determine credit based on level of work and student's commitment.
Homework / Expectations / Other Info
Students should plan on 1 to 1 1/2 hours of homework per class meeting. Class meets Tuesdays and Thursdays. Students will be required to keep a notebook of their lesson work, and a card file of their vocabulary and derivations. Unit tests will check progress.

*Class Fees and Instructor Fees are per semester unless otherwise indicated in the Other Information. Materials fee is non-refundable.

* Credit Hours: COVE does not issue high school credits. These are suggested credit hours to be assigned by the parents. Suggested grade is given by teachers. Final grade assignment is the responsibility of the parent.
