Description
Improv: An ensemble of players gets on stage without previously rehearsed lines or blocking and acts out, making up the show as they go along. The "audience" understands that this show is constructed from nothing before their eyes. In these aspects, improvisational performance differentiates itself from any other performance medium. We will learn teamwork, confidence, collaboration, speaking skills, critical thinking, and quick thinking. We will also learn how to read others and react appropriately to our surroundings using games, skits, and of course, improv.
Homework / Expectations / Other Info
