Description
Don't let your son or daughter graduate from high school like 80% of American young people who don't know where the Mississippi River is! In this day of globalization, give them a great foundation in the physical and cultural geography from a Christian worldview perspective. Students in this class will be introduced to all the regions and countries of the world with a specific emphasis on Cultural Geography's themes such as Religion, Language, Politics, Population and Ethnic Groups, Agriculture, Industrialization, Economic Systems, Cultural Conflicts, Cultural Expressions in Food, Clothing, and Art, plus Christian Missions and the impact of the Gospel on different cultures around the world. This two-hour class will take time to view portions of thought-provoking films.
Homework / Expectations / Other Info
Homework will include chapter homework and tests, maps and other student activities, current events file, culture briefs, and end of semester projects. Because this is a Social Studies class, some vocabulary terms will need to be learned. This is a great introductory Social Studies class--before a student takes World History, for example. Upper level students will nonetheless be challenged to think and design creative projects!
