Description
These littlest scholars will begin to learn about the history of the world through stories, dramatic play, crafts, and games. Students should hear the week's story at home before class from parents or the audiobook. In class we'll discuss the story and do some fun activities. Each week will include a short copywork and drawing page; so at the end of the year students will have their own book of the history of the middle ages.
Homework / Expectations / Other Info
Parent involvement at home is imperative. 4 year olds can be included WITH an older sibling AND parent attending every class. There is an activity book for this curriculum. Some students like to add the coloring pages and other activities to their binder. It is completely optional. (Its copyright does not permit classroom use.)
