Description
NEW! This year we are opening up the tech aspect of theatre to students not able to join the whole year or who would like to be a part of theater but not be on stage. This is a companion class to High School Theatre and runs at the same time as Theatre on Tuesdays. The performance dates for the show will be April 23rd &amp; 24th of 2021. Theatre is a community that we want to open up to more students who don't want to perform but want to be involved. The class fee includes: a production themed t-shirt, programs for the show (students names and roles in the tech class will be included along with the Theatre students performing) and other theatre involved aspects. Communication to the families will be via e-mail, Facebook, Band, and the COVE family folders. In theatre we strive to teach the students about acting and in this class we teach what is involved in the behind the scenes action of creating a production from start to finish. We also hope to have fun in the process! Class time in March and April will possibly be extended to an hour, plus production week will also be extra hours outside of normal class time.
Homework / Expectations / Other Info
++ Students will be expected to attend all tech days scheduled. One or two Saturdays for the tech days are anticipated during the 2nd semester. Tech days will be scheduled and announced at least a month in advance if at all possible. The last two weeks before production there will be 5 to 8 extra practices not just on Tuesdays (times may vary but usually late afternoon or evening for a minimum of 3 hours up to 6 hours each). Depending on each student's tech role, they will be asked to attend production week.
